RESOLUTION,

Requiring the Secretary of State to compile and print, once in every two years, a Register of all officers and agents, civil, military, and naval, in the service of the United States.

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, once in two years, a Register, containing correct lists of all the officers and agents, civil, military and naval, in the service of the United States, made up to the last day of September, of each year in which a new Congress is to assemble, be compiled and printed under the direction of the Secretary for the Department of State. And, to enable him to form such Register, he, for his own department, and the heads of the other departments, respectively, shall, in due time, cause such lists as aforesaid, of all officers and agents, in their respective departments, including clerks, cadets, and midshipmen, to be made and lodged in the office of the Department of State. And the said lists shall exhibit the amount of compensation, pay, and emoluments, allowed to each officer, agent, clerk, cadet, and midshipman, the state or country in which he was born, and where employed.

2. Resolved, That the Secretary of the Navy subjoin to the list of the persons employed in his department, the names, force and condition, of all the ships and vessels belonging to the United States, and when and where built.

3. Resolved, That five hundred copies of the said Register, be printed; and that on the first Monday in January, in each year, when a new Congress shall be assembled, there be delivered to the President, the Vice-President, each head of a department, each member of the Senate and House of Representatives, of the United States, one copy of such Register; and to the Secretary of the Senate, and Clerk of the House of Representatives, each ten copies, for the use of the respective houses; that twenty-five copies shall be deposited in the Library of the United States, at the seat of government, to be used like other books in that library; and that the residue of the said copies be disposed of in such manner as Congress shall, from time to time, direct.

4. Resolved, That for the information of the present Congress, such Register as aforesaid, be prepared and distributed as aforesaid, on the first day of its next session.

[Name] report was also read and approved.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general introduction of the subject. It is shown that the theory of the differential equation of the second order is a special case of the theory of the differential equation of the first order. The method of variation of parameters is applied to the solution of the differential equation of the second order. The method of variation of parameters is applied to the solution of the differential equation of the second order. The method of variation of parameters is applied to the solution of the differential equation of the second order. The method of variation of parameters is applied to the solution of the differential equation of the second order.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed study of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method of variation of parameters is a general method for the solution of the differential equation of the second order. The method of variation of parameters is applied to the solution of the differential equation of the second order.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is equivalent to a problem of finding a function which satisfies certain conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The second part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The third part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The sixth part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The seventh part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The eighth part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The ninth part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

The tenth part of the paper is devoted to the construction of a function which satisfies the conditions. This is done by using the method of characteristics.

NOTE.—Postmasters are compensated by commissions on postages collected by them : and the amount of commission for one year, ending April 1, 1825, is stated, though the Postmaster may not have been so long in office. In some cases, the offices have been too recently established for accounts to have been rendered ; in such cases, the compensation is left blank.— In some instances, no returns have been received of the Postmaster as to the place of his birth. The gross amount of commissions is stated, without deducting the expenses of clerk hire and contingent expenses, except at offices marked thus, * yielding commissions of more than $2,000 per annum, in which cases the clerk hire, being reported, is deducted from the commissions, and the remainder taken for the Postmaster's compensation : but in no case can the net compensation exceed $ 2,000 per annum.

POETRY.

From the New York Mirror.
TO A STOLEN RING.—BY N. F. WILLIAMS.

Oh for thy history now! Hadst thou a tongue
To whisper of thy secrets, I could lay
Upon thy jewell'd tracery mine ear
And dream myself in heaven. Thou hast been worn
In that fair creature's pride, and thou hast felt
The bounding of the haughtiest blood that e'er
Sprang from the heart of woman; and thy gold
Has lain upon her forehead in the hour
Of sadness, when the weary thoughts came fast,
And life was but a bitterness with all
Its vividness and beauty. She has gazed
In her fair girlhood on thy snowy pearls,
And nuzzled away the hours, and she has bent
On thee the downcast raiiance of her eye
When a deep mine was eloquent in her ear,
And thou hast lain upon her cheek, and prest
Back upon her heart its beatings, and put by
From her vein'd temples the luxuriant curls,
And in her peaceful sleep, when she has lain
In her unconscious beauty, and the dreams
Of her high heart came goldenly and soft,
Thou hast been there unhidden, and has felt
The swelling of the clear transparent veins
As the rich blood rush'd through them, warm and fast.
I am impatient as I gaze on thee,
Thou inarticulate jewel! Thou hast heard
With thy dull ear such music!—the low tone
Of a young sister's tenderness, when night
Hath soiled them together like one flower—
The sudden snatch of a remember'd song
Warbled capriciously—the careless word
Lightly betraying the inaudible thought
Working within the heart, and more than all,
Thou hast been lifted when the fervent prayer
For a loved mother, or the sleeping one
Lying beside her, trembled on her lip,
And the warm tear that from her eye stole out
As the soft lash fell over it, has lain
Amid thy shining jewels like a star.

THE CHILD OF SONG.

Whom call ye the child of song?
Who bartered the soul for gold?

Whom call ye the child of song?
Is it he who never pour'd
At Beauty's feet a prayer meet
For the one whom he ador'd?

Whom call ye the child of song?
Is it he who marks the ray
Bright streaming up in the red wine-cup
And turneth him away?

Whom call ye the child of song?
Oh, loved one, is it he
Who would not give e'en life to live
One moment blessed by thee?

No: he is the child of song
Whose spirit, like the flame
Burning alone on an altar-stone,
Is only fed by fame.

And he is the child of song
Whose spirit floats adown
The crimson flood of the red grape's blood
'To drink, but not to drown.

He is the child of song
Who, bound by beauty's sway,
Kneeleth to her a worshipper
Who never can betray.

He is the child of song
Who, led by Beauty's eye,
Would seek afar its smiling star,
To bless it and to die.

STREW FADED FLOWERS.

"Strew faded flowers and withered buds
Upon my shroud so white:
And slips of yew and ivy studs;
But nothing fresh and bright.
"And print upon the coffin lid
No letter of my name,
To tell the worm who there lies hid,
'That thing of guilt and shame.
"And lay me in the loneliest nook
Of all the church-yard green,
Where summer sunbeams never look,
The matted chins between.
"Where dews and hour-frosts lingering lie
At noon and all day long;
No daisy opens her crimson eye—
No blithe bird pours his song.
"Then, hard upon my cold, cold breast,
'Tread down the closing sod;
And leave the weary to her rest—
'The frail one to her God."

THE LILY.

We are lilies fair,
The flower of virgin light;
Nature held us forth and said,
"Lo! my thoughts of white."
Ever since then, angels
Hold us in their hands;
You may see them where they take
In pictures their sweet stands.
Like the garden's angels
Also do we seem,
And not the less for being crowned
Within a golden dream.
Could you see around us
The commured air,
You would think it pale with bliss
To hold a thing so fair.

VOICE OF THE FALLING LEAVES.

A pilgrim through the forest went—
The year leaves fast around him fell,
Each like a sign from Heaven sent
His own sad doom to tell.
The yellow leaves went whispering by,
Each in its passage seem'd to say—
'Companion, learn of us to die,
We go the self-same way.'
'Nay,' said the hopeful man, 'I go
Unto a far and sunnier clime,
Where the green leaves no winter know,
Beyond the blast of time.'

POETICAL EXPRESSION.

Yet 'tis a curse, a torture, to conceal
Sweet thoughts, like flowers, budding in the brain,
Which fade and die before we can reveal
To others their brief beauty bur'd in vain.
And still methinks 'twere better not to feel
Than buy such short-liv'd pleasure with such pain,
For to the poet words are a relief,
Like tears to uncommunicable grief.

Republican Simplicity.—Colonel Herman Thorne, who figures so conspicuously in Mrs Trollop's work on Paris and the Parisians, is at present in this city.—"What an honor for the Pompotino's," as Placido says in the play. This gentleman, we understand, has a retinue of twelve servants, all in livery! drab turned up with yellow buttons! besides lots of fellows to tease his daughters how to parley vauz and cut capers! to say nothing of the moustachoid hangers on, who lol about the house "to make up a show." Col. Thorne it is said, pays one hundred dollars a day for his lodgings, and flourishes away to an extent hitherto unknown in this country. Who after this, dare talk of Republican simplicity, and all that? Not we of the Transcript.—N. F. Transcript.

The Woonsocket Patriot says that Franklin M. Arnold of that village was arrested on Monday, at Wrentham, Mass., charged with stealing a chaise from W. & D. D. Farnum, for whose apprehension a reward of $300 was recently offered. He was examined on Tuesday, and ordered to recognize in the sum of $1000, with surety for his appearance before the Court of Common Pleas at Worcester, in September next, and for want of such surety, was committed to Worcester Jail.

The Vermont Phoenix says that the hatting shop belonging to Geo. W. & E. Gerry, in the West Village of that town, was burnt down on Wednesday, with all its contents, excepting the books, which were fortunately saved. The amount of loss is not stated, but there was an insurance on the property of $1200.

Rev. Brown Emerson, of Yale College, has been unanimously elected Chaplain and Instructor of the House of Reformation.
